

Year 3 Homework - Due Wednesday 14th February

Imagine you wake up one morning and your bedroom has vanished. You are in a strange world. Read the opening of the story and write about what is different.

When I woke up that morning, I felt quite strange. My bed felt odd. Something was wrong. Instead of smooth white sheets and my comfy warm duvet, I felt ...
