

If you don't have your instrument at home, don't worry. You can sing the song with actions, teach the song and actions to someone at home, sing the names of the notes and even do a bit of air-playing.

Have You Ever

A song all about teacher's legs!

Even though it only has three notes, getting them in the right order is your mission!

Have you ever, ever, ever in your long-legged life,
 Seen a long-legged teacher with a long-legged wife?
 No, I've never, ever, ever in my long-legged life,
 Seen a long-legged teacher with a long-legged wife!

- Sing the song with actions, you can even make up some extra verses with actions and words of your own about short legs, crossed legs, wobbly legs, whatever you like!
- Without looking at the music below, can you work out how to play the beginning of this piece using GAB. It starts on a G.
- Check below, were you right?

The musical notation consists of two staves in 4/4 time. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a 4/4 time signature. It contains 14 notes: G (quarter), A (quarter), B (quarter), B (quarter), B (quarter), B (quarter), B (quarter), A (quarter), G (quarter), A (quarter), B (quarter), B (quarter), B (quarter), and G (quarter). The second staff contains 10 notes: B (quarter), B (quarter), B (quarter), B (quarter), A (quarter), G (quarter), A (quarter), B (quarter), A (quarter), and A (quarter), ending with a double bar line and repeat dots.

- Now play the piece using the notes above to help you.
- Is your left hand at the top?
- You don't have to learn this all in one lesson, try and practise it a few times in the week.
